HOPE SALMONSON

Kinder Than Man

POEM BY ALTHEA DAVIS

novum musica

music from emerging composers

I grew up near a highway, so roadkill was a normalized sight since I was young. Althea Davis' poem reframes the common image of a dead animal, wondering what comes next and praying for the next step of their journey to be safer. As the poem goes on, attention moves to animals that have lesser and lesser respect and care from the public, and the need for simple comfort becomes more and more dire. Davis then turns the attention to us; human beings are animals too, and if such a grisly fate awaits us, then hopefully we'll receive the same love that all creatures deserve.

Performance Notes:

Glissandi and Vowel Shifts: Glissandi are intended to be a messy 'smear' effect, and so should not necessarily cross the barline together or line up, even between members of the same section. Once all singers reach and hold the destination chord, move together as normal. Similarly, shifting vowels should not necessarily line up, but should be fully changed by the end of the arrival beat.

Air Sounds: At m. 108, experiment on air sounds that work for your choir to create a feeling of aether or nirvana. Fricative ("ff") sounds may work better in intimate performance spaces, whereas hissing ("sh" or "ss") sounds may work better in larger spaces.

Performing this work? Be sure to reach out via email (hopeariamusic@gmail.com) or Instagram (@HopeAriaMusic) with performance details and the program if available. This helps Hope keep track of how frequently her works are performed, and where in the world the music has gone! Thank you!

And God,
please let the deer
on the highway
get some kind of heaven.
Something will tall soft grass
and sweet reunion.
Let the moths in porch lights
go some place
with a thousand suns,
that taste like sugar
and get swallowed whole.
May the mice
in oil and glue
have forever dry, warm fur
and full bellies

If I am killed
for simply living
let death be kinder than man.

ABOUT HOPE SALMONSON

Composer-tubist Hope Salmonson is queering her music through a cross-genre artistic voice and an emphasis on establishing musical community. Her approach embodies musical joy, placing equal emphasis on elegant composition and camaraderie onstage. She weaves accessible musical language and contemporary approaches to musicking, seeking meaningful collaborative experiences. Through her interactive compositions, Hope seeks to ensure that every voice in the room is valued, on and off the stage.

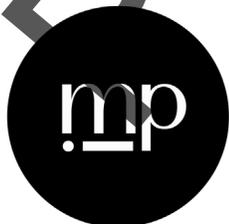

An import from unceded Mi'kmaq territory (Halifax), Hope is spreading her wings on Musqueam, Squamish and Tsleil-Waututh lands (Vancouver). Dipping her toes in the Pacific, she has never forgotten her Atlantic home and continues to strengthen connections across the land. To Hope, people always come first, and her compositions serve and honour her communities. She is actively engaged in efforts to decentralize and shift the institution of classical music through amplifying underrepresented voices and needs in the industry.

Established in 2014, novum musica is an ever-evolving mentorship scheme for emerging composers. Through a series of workshops and sessions with the ensemble and with mentor composers, new choral music is created and developed - reflecting musica intima's goals of developing a new canon of contemporary music for vocal ensemble. We hope these pieces are the first of many from these exciting voices!

novum musica runs biennially. The 2024 edition of the program was presented in collaboration with the Canadian Music Centre BC, and sponsored by the Y.P. Heung Foundation, with composer-mentor Leslie Uyeda.

Program Notes

In my work I search for meaning and connection in the landscapes around me. I have learned that my own environment, if mindfully explored, can summon deep questions about being human and reveal beauty in the unexpected, everyday moments.

O Speak for SSSAATTBB is a reflective response to how I am processing the world right now. Mother nature is displaying her strength and power through devastating fires, storms, earthquakes, extreme weather conditions and drought.

The text is from the bible, in Job 12:8. However, the verse transcends religion and can be universally interpreted as a meaningful reminder to speak and then listen to the earth. By doing so, the earth can teach us how to be responsible stewards.

Performance Notes

- All held (tied notes) are to have staggered breath throughout.
 - The “mm” indicates a closed hum.
 - \longrightarrow denotes a gradual change from “mm” closed hum to the indicated vowel. The transition may occur asynchronously.
 - Annunciate the “(k)” marked at a ppp very lightly, barely audible, and synchronously.
 - Measures 32-36, Soprano 1 upper part is to be performed by a soloist.

Love

I
Love said to the wind, Be still;
To Time, Be merciful;
To Life, Be sufficient.
But these answered,
Shall breath command breath,
Or the relentless the relentless,
Or the shadow the shadow?

II
Love, in whom all things are,
Shadow and light,
Make of my grief a star
Crowning his night.

Love, in whom all things nest,
Tired of the way,
Make of my pains a rest
Healing his day.

Love, in whom all things hide,
Far though they roam,
Make my life's loss the tide
Bearing him home.

ABOUT NICHOLAS RYAN KELLY

Commended by the Vancouver Sun for his “sophisticated work of such immediate, glittery appeal” and called “a rising star in the constellation of Canadian composers” by Oregon Arts Watch, Nicholas Ryan Kelly writes choral, wind ensemble, and chamber music infused with a sense of cinematic drama.

His choral compositions have been premiered by many of Canada’s top choirs, including the Elmer Iseler Singers, Pro Coro Canada, Vancouver Chamber Choir, musica intima, the Elektra Women’s Choir, Chor Leoni, Da Capo Chamber Choir, and the National Youth Choir of Canada. International performances include the Singapore Youth Choir, True Concord Voices, the West Point Band of the US Army, and many others. Since 2015, he has received over 20 national and international prizes for both choral and wind ensemble compositions, including the Howard Cable Prize from the Canadian Band Association and the Edwin Fissinger Choral Composition Prize.

Originally from the northeastern USA, Nick studied composition at Ithaca College in New York (B.M.) and the University of British Columbia in Vancouver (M.Mus.) He lives in BC’s beautiful Okanagan Valley with his partner and their nature-obsessed toddler. His choral scores are published with Pavane Publishing, Cypress Choral Music, Renforth Music, and Alliance Music. He also self-publishes through Lone Moose Music, distributed by MusicSpoke.

Established in 2014, novum musica is an ever-evolving mentorship scheme for emerging composers. Through a series of workshops and sessions with the ensemble and with mentor composers, new choral music is created and developed - reflecting musica intima’s goals of developing a new canon of contemporary music for vocal ensemble. Many years in the dreams of ensemble singers, musica printima was formally established in 2022, as a composer-centric, exclusively digital publisher. With a small but spectacular catalogue of music commissioned by, written for, or performed by musica intima, the imprint exists to ensure that composers intentions are honoured in the publishing of their works, and that the profits find their way back to the composer, without the publisher interfering. 80% of earnings from musica printima sales go to the composer - without whom, these works would never have come to life. Please support their art by not photocopying this music.
