musica intima's into light nominated for two JUNO awards

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE – Wednesday, February 2, 2011

Vancouver, BC – The Canadian Academy of Recording Arts and Sciences has just announced that musica intima's album into light has been nominated for two JUNO Awards:

- musica intima for Classical Album of the Year: Vocal or Choral Performance
- Jocelyn Morlock for Classical Composition of the Year ("Exaudi" on into light)

This is the second time musica intima has been nominated for a JUNO since their self-titled debut album received a nomination in 1999. into light, intima's fifth and latest release on the ATMA label, is a celebration of all-Canadian compositions and was recently awarded Classical Recording of the Year at the Western Canadian Music Awards. The 40th Annual JUNO Awards will take place in Toronto, and will be broadcast on CTV on Sunday, March 27th, 2011.

Praise for into light in Fanfare Magazine:

"This is music and these are performances that one could lose oneself in" ... "By the time this CD is over, you will feel that you have gone on an eventful journey through many emotional states and physical environments" ... "If you want to be amazed, give it a try."

Internationally renowned for their warm and engaging stage presence, impeccable musicianship, and unique perspective on ensemble singing, musica intima has earned a reputation as Canada's most exciting vocal ensemble. The twelve singers rehearse, perform and function as a collective; in rehearsal they self-direct, exchanging ideas freely while exploring their own musical creativity. musica intima's 2010 album into light won Classical Album of the Year at the WCMA's and has just been nominated for a Juno award. The ensemble was voted Best Local Classical Vocal Ensemble in the Georgia Straight's Best of Vancouver Awards in both 2009 and 2010, and they took home the gold in the WestEnder's 2009 Best of the City Awards, for Best Choral Group.

"One of Canada's most astonishing musical exports."
